

June 29, 2004 – OncoLink

Editor’s Choice Award for July 2004

The Ulman Cancer Fund for Young Adults Inc. will be the recipient of the OncoLink “Editor’s Choice” award. This award will be announced during the month of July 2004, and is made on a regular basis to the providers of the highest quality cancer information on the Internet.

“The reason for the selection is the particular emphasis OncoLink places on patients and families who empower themselves with information about their disease. The Ulman Cancer Fund for Young Adults site is exemplary of this philosophy, and serves as a model for others.”

- James Metz, MD
Editor-in-Chief, OncoLink