

October 2, 2003 – The Daily Record

Wood Street Inc. to donate Web design services to Ulman Cancer Fund for Young Adults

Reprinted from The Daily Record

Wood Street Inc., a Frederick-based marketing and Web development company, is donating Web design services to the Ulman Cancer Fund for Young Adults, of Ellicott City, an outreach program for young adults with cancer and their families, "to create a presence that will help [the fund] increase awareness and promote giving and volunteerism," according to Wood Street President Jon Bailey.